OUR HISTORY

PUCKTALKCS: IT'S JUST THE LUCK OF THE PUCK

Founded in May of 2015 by Matthew Mugno and Steven Murno, PucktalkCS has been a labor of love driven by two friends who share an immense passion for the sport of hockey. Our journey began with a simple yet powerful idea - to provide viewers with high-quality content that captures the essence of the game and brings joy to fans everywhere. Our vision has always been centered around delivering engaging episodes filled with in-depth analysis of the current state of the team and the sport as a whole.

Over the years, Pucktalkcs has evolved and grown. From 2015 to 2022, we covered the entire NHL, keeping fans informed and entertained through our podcast and website. Approximately 2,000 listeners engage with our website daily.

In 2020, Pucktalkcs took a brief hiatus as the creators, Matthew and Steven, ventured into the world of filmmaking, writing, and directing a full-length film. This artistic endeavor only fueled their passion for hockey and storytelling, making their return on January 10th, 2022, all the more special.

In 2023, we decided to focus solely on our die-hard passion for the Rangers, making our podcast an all-inclusive hub for NY Rangers hockey fans. By honing in on the team closest to our hearts, we aim to provide even deeper insights, expert analysis, and unwavering support for the Blueshirts.
